- b) public authorities and institutions with regulatory, information and control powers in the field, such as Romania financial information unit, authorities with powers of financial/fiscal control or authorities with powers of fiscal control, customs authority;
- c) state bodies specialized in the activity of information referred to in art. 6 paragraph (1) of Law No. 51/1991 on national security of Romania, republished, with subsequent additions;
- d) autonomous administrative authorities and institutions with the role of regulation and sectoral supervision and control of reporting entities, such as the National Bank of Romania, The Financial Supervisory Authority, the National Gambling Office.

(2) The Financial Information Unit of Romania is the National Office for Prevention and Control of Money Laundering, hereinafter referred to as the Office.

(3) The Office shall be the responsible authority for the assessment of the risks of money laundering and terrorism financing at the national level and the evaluation shall be carried out in co-operation with the authorities and institutions referred to in paragraph (1), ensuring the protection of personal data. The office shall coordinate the national response to the assessed risks , in cooperation with the authorities and institutions referred to in paragraph 1, and inform the European Commission, the European Supervisory Authority and the member states thereof.

(4) In order to prevent and combat the risks of money laundering and terrorism financing, the authorities and institutions referred to in paragraph.(1) letter b)- d) shall carry out risk assessments of these criminal phenomena at sectoral level and, where appropriate, issue regulations or instructions on risk factors and countermeasures and mitigation measures.

(5) The risk-based approach shall be carried out, at national level, by at least the following components:

a) the determination of the areas and the categories of the reporting entities based on the analysis of the risk of money laundering and the terrorism financing to which they are exposed, and the establishment of administrative duties in order to mitigate these risks, as well as the notification of the European Commission by the Office of the situations of extension of the categories of reporting entities;

b) the fulfilment of the obligations imposed at letter a) by measures adopted and enforced by reporting entities according to the assessed individual risk.

(6) The risk assessments referred to in paragraphs (3) and (4) shall be compiled taking into consideration the conclusions of the evaluation on the risks of money laundering and terrorism financing carried out by the European Commission and they are updated at least every 4 years at sectoral and national level, taking into account the evolution of the risks and the effectiveness of the measures taken to mitigate them, and they are used to allocate and prioritize resources to effectively combat money laundering and terrorism financing.

(7) The Office shall ensure that a summary of the national risk assessment is published on its own website and shall forward the relevant elements of the national assessment to the supervisory authorities.

(8) The supervisory authorities shall immediately make available to the reporting entities the relevant elements of the national and sectoral assessment corresponding to the field, in order to carry out and update their own risk assessments after the completion of the risk assessments provided in paragraphs (3) and (4).

(9) The authorities and institutions referred to in paragraph (1) letters a), b) and d) compile statistics on the effectiveness of measures to prevent and combat money laundering and terrorism financing in the specific field of activity, which include:

a) data for measuring the size and importance of the different sectors falling within the scope of this law, including the number of entities and persons, as well as the economic importance of each sector;

b) data for measuring the reporting, investigation and judicial phases of the national framework for combating money laundering and terrorism financing, including the number of reports on suspect transactions submitted to the Office, the actions taken as a result of the respective reports and, annually, the number of cases investigated, the number of persons prosecuted, the number of persons convicted of money laundering or terrorism financing offenses, the type of offenses generating assets subject to money laundering, where this information is available, as well as the Euro value of the goods which have been impounded or confiscated;

c) if available, data indicating the number and percentage of reports that result in further investigation, together with the annual report to reporting entities detailing the usefulness and follow-up of the reports they have submitted;

d) data on the number of cross-border requests for information that have been made, received, partially or completely rejected by the Office.

(10) The authorities and institutions referred to in paragraph (1) letters a), b) and d) shall transmit to the Office, in electronic form, the statistics referred to in paragraph (9) under the form laid down by it. The office shall ensure that a consolidated version of the statistics is published annually on its own website.

(11) The Office shall forward the statistics referred to in paragraph (10) to the European Commission.

(12) The Office shall forward to the European Commission, the European Supervisory Authority, and the member states the risk assessment referred to in paragraph (3).

(2) In addition to the situations mentioned in paragraph (1), the reporting entities submit a report for suspect transactions to the Office when the objective factual circumstances related to a business relationship or occasional transactions correspond in whole or in part to the indicators or typologies of suspect transactions publicly presented by the Office.

(3) The reporting entities shall consider as suspect any business relationship or occasional transaction with a person whose identification data have been communicated by the Office in a targeted manner. In this case a report for suspect transactions shall be submitted by the reporting entity to the Office, the provisions of art. 9 paragraph (1) not being enforceable.

(4) The National Agency for Fiscal Administration shall immediately send a report for suspect transactions to the Office when, in the enforcement of Regulation (EC) no. 1.889 / 2005 of the European Parliament and of the Council of October 26th, 2005 regarding cash control at the entrance or exit of the Community, possessed by them at the entrance or exit of the Union, knows, suspects or has reasonable reasons to suspect that the goods / funds originate from the commission of offenses or related to terrorism financing or the person has violated the obligations established by this regulation.

SECTION 2

Reporting of transactions that do not indicate signs of suspicious

Art. 7. - (1) The reporting entities shall have the obligation to report to the Office cash transactions, in Ron or foreign currency, whose minimum limit represents the equivalent in lei of 10,000 euro.

(2) If the transactions provided for in paragraph (1) are carried out through a credit or financial institution, the reporting obligation shall rest with it, except for the operations from the money remittance activity that will be reported according to paragraph (5).

(3) The credit and financial institutions, as referred to in this law, shall submit on-line reports regarding the external transfers in and from accounts, in lei or in foreign currency, whose minimum limit represents the equivalent in lei of 15,000 euro.

(4) For the purposes of paragraph (1), the term transaction shall include operations whose value is fragmented into tranches smaller than the equivalent in lei of 15,000 euros, which have common elements such as: the parties of the transactions, including the real beneficiaries, the nature or category in which the transactions fall, and the amounts involved. The reporting entities shall establish in the policies and internal rules referred to in art. 24 paragraph 1, proportional to the risk of money laundering and terrorism financing to which they are exposed, the term according to which the common elements are relevant, as well as any other scenarios that could lead to transactions connected between them.

(5) For the activity of remittance, the reporting entities shall send to the Office reports on the transfers of funds whose minimum limit represents the equivalent in lei of 2,000 euro.

(6) The National Agency of Fiscal Administration shall submit to the Office reports concerning the information included in the statements of the individuals regarding cash in foreign currency and/or in the national currency, which is greater than or equal to the limit laid down by Regulation (EC) no. 1.889/2005 of the European Parliament and of the Council of October 26th, 2005, in their possession at the entrance or exit from the Union.

(7) The report for the transactions referred to in paragraphs (1), (3) and (5) shall be submitted to the Office no later than 3 working days from the time of the transaction, and the report referred to in that paragraph (6) shall be forwarded to the Office no later than 3 working days after the date of submission of the statement in accordance with Regulation

(EC) 1.889/2005 of the European Parliament and of the Council of October 26th, 2005, in their possession at the entrance or exit from the Union, in accordance with a methodology approved by the decree of the president of the Office.

SECTION 3 Reporting Rules

Art. 8. - (1) The reporting entities referred to in art. 5 shall immediately forward to the Office the report on suspect transactions referred to in art. 6 prior to any transaction related to the customer connected with the reported suspicion.

(2) The Office shall immediately confirm in writing, by allocating the registration number, including by electronic means, the receipt of the report of suspect transactions.

(3) The transaction shall not be carried out until the expiry of a time limit of 24 hours from the moment of registration referred to in paragraph (2). If the Office does not order the transaction to be suspended within the previous mentioned time limit, the reporting entity may carry out the transaction.

(4) In order to analyse the transaction and verify the suspicion, the Office may suspend the performance of the transaction for up to 48 hours, as a result of the information received under the provisions of the present law, of some requests in this respect received from the Romanian judicial bodies or foreign institutions who have similar powers and who have the obligation to keep the secret under similar conditions or based on other possessed information. The decision of the Office to suspend the conduct of a transaction shall be communicated to the reporting entity immediately, in both printed and electronic form, and shall be implemented immediately.

(5) If the suspicion reported is not confirmed, the Office shall decide to terminate the suspension of a transaction before the expiry of the time limit referred to in paragraph (4), a decision which shall be communicated to the reporting entity forthwith and which shall be implemented immediately.

(6) Before the expiry of the term provided in par. (4), the Office, if it is considered to be necessary, it may request for one time with good reasons, to the Public Prosecutor's Office attached to the High Court of Cassation and Justice, the extension of the suspension of transaction performance with a maximum of 72 hours, which is calculated starting with the hour when the suspension decision expires.

(7) The Office may request if it has good reasons the Public Prosecutor's Office attached to the High Court of Cassation and Justice to terminate the extension of the suspension at any time within the time limit referred to in paragraph (6).

(8) The decision of the Public Prosecutor's Office attached to the High Court of Cassation and Justice shall be communicated forthwith to the Office, which shall communicate it forthwith to the reporting entity.

(9) If, before the expiry of the time limit set in the suspension decision, the Office has not communicated its decision to extend the suspension, the reporting entity may carry out the transaction.

(10) If the time limits set per hour, in accordance with paragraphs (3), (4) and (6) are fulfilled on a day that is declared a non-working for public institutions involved in suspension procedure, they shall be extended until the same hour on the next working day.

(11) The form and content of the reports referred to in art. 6 and 7 for financial and non-financial reporting entities and the methodology for their transmission shall be established by decree of the Office president , in consultation with supervisory authorities and self-regulatory bodies.

(12) The reporting entities shall have the obligation to transmit to the Office the reports referred to in art. 6, 7 and art. 9 paragraph (1) only in electronic form, through the channels made available by the Office, in the form and content established pursuant to paragraph (11).

(13) The Office will return to the reporting entity or the customs authority the reports that do not respect the form and content established by it and will consider the reporting obligation as not fulfilled until the deficiencies have been rectified.

(14) The deficiencies indicated by the Office will be rectified and a new report will be sent by the reporting entity or the customs authority no later than two working days from the date of receipt of the returned report. In the case of the report for suspect transactions, the period referred to in paragraph (3) shall start from the moment the Office confirms the receipt of the duly completed report.

(15) The reports referred to in art. 6, 7 and art. 9 paragraph (1) as well as any other documents received by the Office indicating suspicions of money laundering or terrorism financing do not constitute a petition within to the effect of Government Ordinance no. 27/2002 concerning the regulation of the activity of solving petitions, approved with amendments and completions by Law no. 233/2002, with subsequent amendments.

Art. 9. - (1) By way of exception to the provisions of art. 8, the reporting entities may perform a transaction which is connected with a suspect transaction without reporting in advance, if refraining from carrying out the transaction is impossible or if the failure to perform it would hamper the efforts to track the beneficiaries of the suspect transaction, under the provision of maintaining the obligation to send a report of suspect transactions exclusively to the Office immediately, but not later than 24 hours after the execution of the transaction, specifying also the reason for which the provisions of art. 8 were not complied with.

(2) The reporting entities shall immediately send a report of suspect transactions exclusively to the Office, when it acknowledges that one or more transactions that have been carried out and which are connected to the client's activity exhibits suspicions of money laundering or terrorism financing.

(3) The persons referred to in art. 5 paragraph (1) letters e) and f) shall have the obligation to send a report of suspect transactions only insofar as the information they receive from one of their clients or they obtain in connection with them during the evaluation of the legal situation of the client during court proceedings or fulfilling the obligation to defend or represent the client in court proceedings or in connection with these procedures, including legal advice on initiating or avoiding proceedings, whether or not this information is received or obtained before the proceedings, during or after them.

(4) The provisions of paragraph (3) shall not apply in cases where the persons referred to in art. 5 paragraph (1) letters e) and f) are aware of the fact that the legal advice activity is provided for the purpose of money laundering or terrorism financing or when they know that a client wants legal advice for the purpose of money laundering or terrorism financing.

(5) In the case of reporting entities referred to in art. 5 paragraph (1) letters e) and f), the reports shall be made to the Office, and shall be notified to the management structures of liberal professions on the submission of suspect transaction reports.

(6) It is exempted from the reporting obligations provided in art. 7 paragraph (1) the following operations carried out on behalf and on own account: between credit institutions, between credit institutions and the National Bank of Romania, between credit institutions and the State Treasury, between the National Bank of Romania and the State Treasury, as well as sales operations of numismatic effects and the exchange of damaged or withdrawn from circulation banknotes, carried out by the National Bank of Romania.

(2) By way of exception of the provisions of paragraph 1. reporting entities may apply simplified measures in an appropriate manner to the risk of money laundering and associated terrorism financing.

(3) Reporting entities shall have adequate risk management systems, including procedures based on risk assessment, in order to determine whether a client or the real beneficiary of a client is a publicly exposed person.

(4) In the enforcement of the measures referred to in paragraph. (1) letters a) and b), the reporting entities shall also verify whether a person who claims to act on behalf of the client it is authorized to act in this respect, in which case they identify and verify the identity of that person.

(5) When this law and the sectoral regulations or instructions issued by the competent authorities in the enforcement of the provisions of art. 1 paragraph (4) include endorsements regarding the application of a certain category of clientele knowledge measures, the reporting entity is obliged to apply at least the respective category, but it may decide, based on its own risk assessment, to apply a category of measures more restrictive than the compulsory ones.

(6) When assessing the risk of money laundering and terrorism financing, reporting entities shall be required to consider at least the following:

- a) the purpose of initiating a relationship or conducting an occasional transaction;
- b) the level of assets to be traded by a customer or the size of the transactions already made;
- c) regularity or duration of the business relationship;
- d) regulations and sectoral instructions issued by the competent authorities in the enforcement of the provisions of art. 1 paragraph (4).

(7) The reporting entities shall be responsible for demonstrating to the supervisory and control authorities or self-regulatory bodies that the customer knowledge measures applied are appropriate in terms of the money laundering and terrorism financing risks that have been identified.

(8) The reporting entities are required to verify the identity of the client and the real beneficiary before establishing a business relationship or carrying out the occasional transaction.

(9) When the reporting entity is not able to apply the customer knowledge measures, it must not open the account, initiate or continue the business relationship or carry out the occasional transaction and must draw up a suspect transaction report in relation to that client, whenever there are grounds for suspicion, which will be transmitted to the Office.

Art. 12. - The manner of enforcement of clientele knowledge measures shall be duly completed with the provisions of the regulations and sectoral instructions issued by the competent authorities in application of the provisions of art. 1 paragraph (4).

Standard measures of customer knowledge

Art. 13. - (1) Reporting entities shall be required to apply standard customer knowledge measures in the following situations:

- a) when establishing a business relationship;

(3) If the amount is not known at the time of acceptance of the transaction, the reporting entity shall apply the standard procedures of clientele knowledge, when it is informed of the transaction value and when it has established that the applicable minimum limit has been reached.

(4) In the case of life insurance and other types of insurance products which include an investment component, credit and financial institutions shall apply, in addition to the standard procedures of clientele knowledge required in relation to the customer and the real beneficiary, the following knowledge measures, as soon as the beneficiaries of these types of insurance are identified or designated:

a) in the case of beneficiaries identified by name, the credit or the financial institution shall apply the measures for the customers knowledge in relation to them;

b) in the case of beneficiaries designated by characteristics or category or by other means, the credit or financial institution will request to obtain sufficient information regarding the respective beneficiaries, so as to ensure that, at the time of payment, it will be able to establish the identity of the beneficiary of these types of insurance.

(5) The measures provided in paragraph (4) shall be adopted at the latest at the time of payment or at the time of assignment, in whole or in part, of the policy.

(6) In the case of an assignment, in whole or in part, of a life insurance policy or other insurance policy related to the investment by a third party, the credit and financial institutions who have knowledges about the assignment shall identify the real beneficiary at the time of the assignment to the natural or legal person or to the legal arrangement that receives, for its own benefit, the value of the transferred policy.

(7) In the case of the beneficiaries of the trust or similar legal arrangement which is assigned on the basis of specific characteristics or category, the reporting entities are required to obtain sufficient information about the beneficiary, so as to ensure that they will be able to establish the identity of the beneficiary at the time of payment or exercise by the beneficiary of the acquired rights.

(8) Compelled entities may not apply clientele knowledge measures regarding electronic currency, if all the following risk mitigation conditions are met:

a) the payment instrument is not rechargeable or has a maximum limit of EUR 150 for monthly payment transactions, which can only be used in that member state;

b) the maximum amount stored electronically does not exceed 150 euro;

c) the payment instrument is used exclusively to purchase goods or services;

d) the payment instrument cannot be financed with anonymous electronic money;

e) the issuer performs sufficient monitoring of the transactions or business relationship to enable the detection of unusual or suspect transactions.

(9) The waiver provided for in paragraph (8) shall not apply in the case of the cash buy-back or cash withdrawal of the monetary value of the electronic currency if the buy-back amount exceeds 150 euros.

Art. 14. - Reporting entities shall apply clientele knowledge measures not only to all new customers, but also to existing customers, depending on the risk, including when the relevant customer circumstances change.

Art. 15. - (1) The identification of the clients and the real beneficiaries shall include at least:

a) in the case of natural person - all the civil status data provided in the identity documents provided by law;

b) in the case of legal persons - the data contained in the articles of incorporation or registration certificate and the data of the legal representative of the legal entity which concludes the contract;

c) the data and information provided for in the enforceable sectoral regulations.

(2) In the case of foreign legal entities, a translation into Romanian of the documents referred to in paragraph (1) letter b), notarized under the law, shall be required

SECTION 2

Simplified clientele knowledge measures

Art. 16. - (1) Reporting entities may apply simplified clientele knowledge measures exclusively to customers at low risk.

(2) The classification in a low degree of risk shall be achieved through the overall assessment of all identified risk factors, according to the provisions of art. 11 paragraph (6) and taking into consideration at least the following specific factors:

a) customer risk factors:

1. public companies listed on a stock exchange and subject to the requirements of information disclosure, either by stock exchange rules, or by law or by enforcement means, which impose requirements to ensure adequate transparency of the real beneficiary;

2. public administrations or public undertakings;

3. customers residing in low-risk geographical areas, as referred to in letter c);

b) risk factors for products, services, transactions or distribution channels:

Art. 21 - (1) The reporting entities, when applying clientele knowledge measures, shall have the obligation to retain, in a printed form or electronic format, in a form admitted in the judicial procedures, all the records obtained by applying these measures, such as copies of the identification documents, the monitoring and verifications carried out, including the information obtained through the electronic identification means necessary to comply with the clientele knowledge requirements, for a period of 5 years from the date of termination of the business relationship with the client or from the date of the occasional transaction.

(2) Reporting entities shall retain supporting documents and records of transactions, consisting of account records or commercial correspondence, necessary for the identification of transactions, including the results of any customer-related analysis, e.g. requests to establish the history and purpose of complex, unusually large transactions. These documents can be either originals or copies admissible in court proceedings and must be retained for a period of 5 years from the date of the termination of the business relationship with the customer or from the date of the occasional transaction.

(3) When it shall be necessary to extend the period of retention of documents, in order to prevent, detect or investigate money laundering or terrorism financing activities, the reporting entities are obliged to extend the deadlines provided in paragraph (1) and (2) with the period indicated by the competent authorities and this extension cannot exceed 5 years.

(4) Upon expiry of the retention period, the reporting entities shall be required to delete personal data, except where other legal provisions require that the data continue to be preserved.

Art. 22 - (1) The personal data shall be processed by the reporting entities on the basis of the present law, and in compliance with the legislation in force concerning the processing of personal data solely for the purposes of the prevention of money laundering and terrorism financing and shall not be further processed in any manner incompatible with that purpose. The processing of personal data for other purposes, such as commercial ones, is prohibited.

(2) The reporting entities shall to provide new clients, before establishing a business relationship or carrying out an occasional transaction, at least the information provided below, unless the person is already informed of these data:

- a) the identity of the operator and, where appropriate, of the representative;
- b) the purpose of the processing for which the data are intended;
- c) any additional information, such as:
 1. recipients or categories of recipients of the data;
 2. if the answers to questions are mandatory or voluntary, as well as the possible consequences of avoiding the answer;
 3. the existence of the right of access to the data concerning it and the rectification of the personal data, insofar as, taking into account the specific circumstances in which the data are collected, such additional information is necessary to ensure a correct processing of the data regarding the targeted person.

(3) The information referred to in paragraph (2) include general information on the legal obligations of reporting entities under this law when processing personal data for the purpose of preventing money laundering and terrorism financing.

(4) The processing of personal data in the context of paragraph (1) is considered to be necessary in order to carry out measures of public interest, in accordance with the provisions of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of April 27th, 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to processing of personal data and regarding the free movement of such data and repealing of Directive 95/46 / EC (General Data Protection Regulation).

CHAPTER V

Assigned person and internal procedures

Art. 23 - (1) The reporting entities shall have the obligation to designate one or more persons who have responsibilities in the enforcement of this law, specifying the nature and limits of the entrusted responsibilities, whose names will be communicated to the Office, exclusively in electronic format, through the channels made available by it.

(2) Credit institutions and financial institutions shall have the obligation to designate a compliance officer at management level, who shall coordinate the implementation of internal policies and procedures for the enforcement of this law. In the case of cooperative networks, in the meaning provided in the Government Emergency Ordinance no. 99/2006, approved with amendments and completions by law no. 227/2007, with subsequent amendments and completions, the compliance officer may be appointed at the level of the central house to coordinate the implementation of policies and procedures throughout the network.

(3) The persons designated according to the provisions of paragraph (1) and (2) shall have direct and in due time access to the relevant data and information, possessed by the reporting entities, necessary for the fulfilment of the obligations provided by this law.

(4) The provisions of paragraph (1) shall not be enforceable to natural persons acting as reporting entity and to reporting entities referred to in art. 5 paragraph (1) letter i).

(5) Given the nature of the responsibilities entrusted to the persons mentioned in paragraphs (1) and (2), the supervisory and control authorities and the reporting entities have the obligation to create mechanisms to protect them, including by granting the right to address in their own name to report to the state authorities violations of any kind of this law within the reporting entity, in which case the identity of these persons will be adequately protected.

(6) The mechanisms referred to in paragraph (5) include, where appropriate, at least:

a) specific procedures for receiving reports of violations of any nature of this law and taking further action;

b) adequate protection of employees or persons in a similar position within reporting entities, who report violations of any nature of this law, committed within them;

(c) adequate protection of the persons referred to in paragraphs (1) and (2);

d) the protection of the personal data of the person who reports the breach of any of the nature of the law, as well as the natural person who is allegedly responsible for a breach, in accordance with the principles laid down in the Regulation (EU) 2016/679;

e) clear norms to ensure that confidentiality is guaranteed in all cases with regard to the identity of the person reporting any violations of this law, committed within the reporting entity, unless disclosure is required by other legal provisions.

Art. 24. - (1) According to the nature and volume of the activity carried out and taking into account the regulations, prudential requirements and the sectoral instructions issued by the competent authorities in the enforcement of the provisions of art. 1 paragraph (4), the reporting entities establish internal policies and norms, internal control mechanisms and procedures for managing the risks of money laundering and terrorism financing, which include at least the following elements:

a) enforceable customer knowledge measures;

b) enforceable measures for reporting, records and all documents retention as required by this law and for the prompt provision of data at the request of the competent authorities;

c) enforceable internal control, risk assessment and management, compliance and communication management measures;

d) enforceable measures regarding the protection of the own personnel involved in the process of applying these policies, against any threats or hostile or discriminatory actions;

e) training and periodic evaluation of employees.

(2) Depending on the size and nature of the activity, the reporting entities shall have the obligation to provide an independent audit function in order to test the policies, internal norms, mechanisms and procedures referred to in paragraph (1).

(3) The reporting entities shall approve and monitor the policies, internal rules, mechanisms and procedures referred to in paragraph (1) at the level of senior management.

(4) The reporting Entities shall have the obligation to ensure regular appropriate training of employees with regard to the provisions of this law, as well as with regard to the relevant provisions on the protection of personal data, and to carry out the process of the verification of the employees, in accordance with sectoral regulations or instructions, issued by the competent authorities in the enforcement of the provisions of art. 1 paragraph (4). Documents drawn up for this purpose shall be made available to control authorities and self-regulatory bodies at their request.

(5) Depending on the risks to which they are exposed, the size and nature of the activity, the reporting entities shall include, in the process of training the employees, the participation in special programs of permanent training whose purpose is the acknowledgement by employees of the operations that may be connected with money laundering or terrorism financing.

(6) In the case of credit institutions and financial institutions, it shall be mandatory to establish adequate standards in the process of recruiting staff with responsibilities in the enforcement of the present law and its participation in training programs whenever it is needed, but not later than an interval of 2 years, in compliance with sectoral regulations or instructions.

(7) The reporting entities that are part of a group shall be required to implement group-level policies, procedures and training, including data protection policies and policies and procedures regarding sharing information within the group in order to combat money laundering and terrorism financing, which it applies also to the branches and subsidiaries that are majority owned in the member states and in third countries.

(8) The supervisory authorities shall inform each other and also the European supervisory authorities of the cases in which the law of the third country does not allow the implementation of the policies and procedures required by the provisions of paragraph (7) and in this direction it can be undertaken actions to identify a solution.

(9) If the law of the third country does not allow the implementation of the policies and procedures provided in paragraph (1), the reporting entities shall ensure that the majority owned branches and subsidiaries of the respective third country apply additional measures to effectively deal with the risk of money laundering or terrorism financing and shall inform the competent authorities of the home member state. If the additional measures are not sufficient, the competent authorities referred to in article 26 shall apply additional supervisory measures, including measures requiring the group not to establish business relations or to cease those business relations, not to carry out transactions and, if necessary, to close its operations in the third country.

(10) If a natural person who falls into any of the categories listed in art. 5 paragraph (1) letters d) -i) performs professional activities as an employee of a legal person, the obligations provided in this chapter shall apply to the respective legal person, and not to the natural person.

CHAPTER VI

Obligation to assess risks

Art. 25. - (1) The reporting activities shall have the obligation to identify and evaluate the risks of the activity carried out regarding the exposure to money laundering and terrorism financing, taking into account the risk factors, including those related to customers, countries or geographical areas, products, services, transactions or distribution channels.

(2) The assessments drawn up for this purpose shall be documented, updated, including on the basis of the national and sectoral evaluation and of the regulations or instructions issued by the authorities in the enforcement of the provisions of art. 1 paragraph (4), and they are made available to the authorities with supervisory and control powers and to the self-regulatory bodies, upon their request.

(3) The assessments carried out shall form the basis of the own risk management policies and procedures as well for determining the set of clientele knowledge measures that are applicable to each client.

(4) The reporting entities operating through branches, agents or distributors in another member state shall be obliged to ensure that they comply with the provisions of national law of the respective member state regarding the prevention of the use of the financial system for the purpose of money laundering or terrorism financing. Where the provisions of this law are more restrictive, the reporting entities shall ensure also the compliance by their branches, agents or distributors from another member state with those provisions.

CHAPTER VI

Supervision and control

Art. 26. (1) The way of enforcement of the provisions of the present law shall be supervised and controlled, within the framework of the attributions of service, by the following authorities and bodies:

(7) Anonymous complaints will not be verified and processed.

(8) Criminal prosecution bodies shall notify, annually, the Office of the status of the resolution of the information transmitted, as well as the amount of the sums in the accounts of the natural or legal persons for whom the blocking was arranged, as a result of the suspensions carried out or of the insurance measures arranged.

(9) The Office shall provide feedback to reporting entities, the customs authorities, as well as to the authorities with financial, fiscal control and prudential supervision powers, whenever possible, through a procedure considered appropriate, regarding the effectiveness and the actions taken by the Office as a result of the reports received from the reporting entities.

(10) The documents transmitted by the Office may not be used as evidence in judicial, civil or administrative proceedings, except for the application of the provisions of art. 43.

Art. 35. - (1) At the request of the competent authorities at national level referred to in art. 34 paragraph (1) - (3), motivated by suspicions of money laundering, crimes generating assets subject to money laundering or terrorism financing, the Office shall disseminate the possessed information to them.

(2) The decision on the transmission of the information referred to in paragraph (1) shall belong to the Office and, in the case of non-submission, it shall give reasons to the requesting competent authorities for refusing to exchange information.

(3) The request for information shall necessarily contain at least the following elements: the relevant facts, the context, the reasons for the request and the way the information provided will be used.

(4) The competent authorities shall have the obligation to communicate to the Office the way in which the information transmitted by the office has been used pursuant to paragraph (1).

5. The Office may refuse to exchange the information referred to in paragraph (1) in the event that there are factual reasons to assume that the provision of such information could have a negative impact on the ongoing analysis, or, in exceptional circumstances, where the disclosure of the information would be clearly disproportionate to the legitimate interests of a natural or legal person, or it should be, irrelevant in relation to the purposes for which it was requested.

(6) The provisions of paragraphs (2) - (5) shall not apply in the case of requests for information made by the institutions referred to in art. 1 paragraph (1) letter c) in the activity of achieving national security.

Art. 36. - (1) The Office may exchange information, on its own initiative or on request, on the basis of reciprocity, through the channels of communication with foreign institutions that have similar functions or with other competent authorities in other member states or third countries, which have the obligation to maintain secrecy under similar conditions, if such communications are made for the purpose of preventing and combating money laundering and terrorism financing, including with regard to the recovery of the proceeds of such offenses.

(2) The exchange of information referred to in paragraph (1) shall be carried out spontaneously or upon request, regardless of the type of the criminal offence generating assets subject to money laundering and even if their type was not identified at the time of the exchange of information.

(3) The information possessed by the Office from a financial information unit referred to in paragraph (1) may be transmitted only to the authorities referred to in art. 34 paragraphs (1) and (3), only with the prior authorization of the financial information unit that provided the information, and may be used only for the purpose for which they were requested.

(4) When the Office receives a report of suspect transactions relating to another member state, it is promptly redirected to the financial information unit in that member state.

(5) In order to respond to requests for information in a timely manner, the Office exercises all the competences established by law regarding the reception and analysis of information.

(6) When the Office receives a request from a financial information unit from another member state, having as object the obtaining of additional information from a compelled entity established in the territory of Romania and operating in the territory of the applicant state, the prior approval shall be promptly transferred.

(7) If the Office wishes to obtain additional information from an entity operating in the territory of Romania and established in another member state, it shall make a request in this regard to the financial information unit of the member state concerned.

(8) The Office may refuse to provide the agreement for the dissemination of the information transmitted pursuant to paragraph (1) if it is outside the scope of the provisions of this law or could impede a criminal investigation, it could harm the legitimate interests of a natural or legal person or contravene the national legal system or the sovereignty, security, national interests or international agreements, properly motivating to the applicant the refusal.

(9) The request for information shall necessarily contain at least the following elements: the relevant facts, the context, the reasons for the request and how the information provided will be used.

Art. 37. - (1) The enforcement of the provisions of art. 6, art. 7 and art. 9 paragraph (1) by the reporting entities, principals, or employees thereof, shall not constitute a violation of a disclosure restriction imposed by the contract or by a law or administrative act and does not entail any liability for the compelled entity or its employees, even in the circumstances in which they did not know accurately the type of criminal activity and regardless of whether the activity took place or not.

(2) The reporting entities shall be obliged to ensure the protection of employees and their representatives who report, either internally or to the Office, suspicions of money laundering or terrorism financing, from exposure to threats, hostile or discriminatory actions at work, including ensuring confidentiality as to their identity.

(3) The reporting entities shall have the obligation to establish appropriate procedures for employees or persons in a similar position regarding the reporting of violations, internally, through a specific, independent and anonymous channel, commensurate with the nature and size of the entity involved.

Art. 38. - (1) It is forbidden to use for personal purpose by employees of reporting entities the confidential information received under this law, both during the activity and after its termination.

(2) The reporting entities, the management, administration and control bodies of the company, the directors and employees of their entities shall have the obligation not to transmit, except under the conditions stipulated by the law, the information held in connection with money laundering and terrorism financing and not to disclose to the targeted clients nor to other third parties that the information is being transmitted, has been transmitted or will be transmitted in accordance with art. 6 and art. 9 paragraph (1) or that an analysis of money laundering or terrorism financing is in progress or could be carried out.

(3) The perpetration of the following facts in the exercise of the duties of the service shall not constitute a violation of the prohibition provided in paragraph (2):

a) the transmission of information between the credit institutions and the financial institutions of the member states, provided that they belong to the same group, or between the respective institutions and the branches and subsidiaries owned by a majority proportion established in third countries, provided that the respective branches and subsidiaries fully comply with the policies and procedures at the group level, including the procedures for the exchange of information within the group, and these policies and procedures at the group level comply with the requirements established by this law;
